The Plaintiff, Terry, S. Wood, Sr. (Plaintiff), proceeding pro se, brings this action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983.¹ Plaintiff is a detainee at the Cherokee County Detention Center, and files this action in forma pauperis under 28 U.S.C. § 1915. Plaintiff seeks monetary damages, as well as release from confinement.² The complaint should be dismissed for failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

Pro Se and In Forma Pauperis Review

Under established local procedure in this judicial district, a careful review has been made of the pro se complaint pursuant to the procedural provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915; 28 U.S.C. § 1915A; and the Prison Litigation Reform Act, Pub. L. No. 104-134, 110 Stat. 1321 (1996). This review has been conducted in light of the following precedents: Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25 (1992); Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324-25 (1989); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519 (1972); Nasim v. Warden, Md. House of Corr., 64 F.3d 951 (4th Cir. 1995); and Todd v. Baskerville, 712 F.2d 70 (4th Cir. 1983).

¹ Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. §636(b)(1)(B), and Local Rule 73.02(B)(2)(d), D.S.C., the undersigned is authorized to review such complaints for relief and submit findings and recommendations to the District Court.

² To the extent Plaintiff seeks release from confinement, he must file a Petition for a Writ of Habeas Corpus. See Preiser v. Rodriguez, 411 U.S. 475 (1973)(habeas corpus is the exclusive remedy for a prisoner who challenges the fact or duration of his confinement and seeks immediate or speedier release).

This complaint has been filed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915, which permits an indigent litigant to commence an action in federal court without prepaying the administrative costs of proceeding with the lawsuit. To protect against possible abuses of this privilege, the statute allows a district court to dismiss the case upon a finding that the action “fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted” or is “frivolous or malicious.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i), (ii). A finding of frivolity can be made where the complaint “lacks an arguable basis either in law or in fact.” Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. at 31. A claim based on a meritless legal theory may be dismissed sua sponte under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B). See Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319 (1989); Allison v. Kyle, 66 F.3d 71 (5th Cir. 1995).

This Court is required to liberally construe pro se documents, Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89 (2007); Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97 (1976), holding them to a less stringent standard than those drafted by attorneys, Hughes v. Rowe, 449 U.S. 9 (1980). Even under this less stringent standard, however, the pro se complaint is subject to summary dismissal. The mandated liberal construction afforded to pro se pleadings means that if the court can reasonably read the pleadings to state a valid claim on which the plaintiff could prevail, it should do so. However, the requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim currently cognizable in a federal district court. Weller v. Dep’t of Soc. Servs., 901 F.2d 387 (4th Cir. 1990).

Background

Plaintiff's complaint states the following verbatim:

Jennie Moore did not give me time to get a lawyer. No time to get ready for the charge. Sued me without a reason to defend myself. Date 2-26 & 27 - 09. Turn a order of protection into a law sued. Didn't have all the evidence Sandra Wood didn't give the right facts in said case. Left out evidence that would have set me free.

Discussion

This complaint is filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which "'is not itself a source of substantive rights,' but merely provides 'a method for vindicating federal rights elsewhere conferred.'" Albright v. Oliver, 510 U.S. 266, 271 (1994) (quoting Baker v. McCollan, 443 U.S. 137, 144 n.3 (1979)). A civil action under § 1983 allows "a party who has been deprived of a federal right under the color of state law to seek relief." City of Monterey v. Del Monte Dunes at Monterey, Ltd., 526 U.S. 687, 707. To state a claim under § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements: (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

In regards to Defendant Sandra Wood, Plaintiff provides no facts which indicate that this Plaintiff acted under color of state law. Further, Plaintiff appears to indicate that Defendant Wood was a witness, who provided incorrect information in a state court case concerning the Plaintiff. However, it is well settled that a private witness in a state court proceeding cannot be sued for damages under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Briscoe v. LaHue, 460 U.S. 325, 335 (1983). See also Brice v. Nkaru, 220 F.3d 233, 239 n. 6 (4th Cir. 2000). As Plaintiff fails to allege any state action by Defendant Wood and it further appears that this Defendant is protected by absolute witness immunity, Plaintiff's § 1983 claim against this Defendant is subject to summary dismissal.

Plaintiff indicates that the only remaining Defendant, Jennie Moore, is a Solicitor in Cherokee County, South Carolina. In South Carolina, regional prosecutors are called Solicitors and Assistant Solicitors. See S.C. CONST. art. V, § 24; S.C. CODE ANN. § 1-7-310 (1976). Solicitors are elected by voters of a judicial circuit. Prosecutors have absolute immunity for activities in or connected with judicial proceedings, such as a criminal trial, bond hearings, bail hearings, grand jury proceedings, and pre-trial "motions" hearings. See Buckley v. Fitzsimmons, 509 U.S. 259 (1993); Burns v. Reed, 500 U.S. 478 (1991); Dababnah v. Keller-Burnside, 208 F.3d 467 (4th Cir. 2000). Plaintiff claims Defendant Moore failed to give Plaintiff time to obtain a lawyer or prepare for his state court case. However, any possible claims the Plaintiff may be attempting to raise regarding Defendant Moore's prosecution of his state court case are barred from suit under § 1983. Therefore, Defendant Moore should be dismissed from Plaintiff's action.

Recommendation

_____. Accordingly, it is recommended that the District Court dismiss the complaint in the above-captioned case without prejudice and without issuance of service of process. Plaintiff's attention is directed to the important notice on the next page.
